For students aged 19 or older who wish to prepare for the GED test and college, we offer CUNY Prep @ Night, an evening program designed to meet the needs of older learners. CUNY Prep @ Night classes meet four evenings per week, from 6-9 p.m. Students take classes in science, math, writing and social studies. Below is a brief introduction to the CUNY Prep @ Night program, by Jamal Mantin, Director.

“CUNY Prep @ Night was created because of the success of the day school program. After witnessing the effect that CUNY Prep’s educational model had on high school students, Mr. Griffith felt it was imperative to start a division of CUNY Prep tailored for adults. CUNY Prep @ Night provides young adults and older adults with a comfortable and academically engaging environment, which provides students with the necessary tools to ascend academically and career-wise. Each cohort of students is enrolled in the program for three months and they partake in a rigorous curriculum. Such lofty academic requirements not only prepare them for the GED but enable them to complete college level assignments. As the director of the program, I am proud to say that the students who participate in the program are enthusiastic, dedicated, and possess commendable work ethics. Many have been out of school for extensive periods of time, and it is simply priceless to observe how excited they are to be back in an educational setting. It has been the utmost pleasure to have the opportunity to be the coordinator of such a meaningful program.”
